

Steve Hess

Steve Hess is a 2002 graduate of Hillsborough High School. Steve is the first lacrosse player to be inducted into the Hall of Fame.

By many coaches' standards, Steve was considered one of the best lacrosse players from New Jersey. He was a four-time All-Area, three-time All-conference and a three-time All-state lacrosse player. He was also a High School All-American his senior year.

Steve played at Loyola College in Maryland where he was, twice, a pre-season All-American, but injuries prevented him from earning post-season honors. He was a two-year captain, made 2nd team All-ECAC, and led his team to a victory over a #1 ranked Duke team.

Congratulations to Steve for his excellence in lacrosse and his induction into the 2009 Hall of Fame class.
